

One Week in the Life of Ivan Denisovich

1.

The formal business suit

is a half-hearted
avant garde therapy

clinic that helps children & their families learn

communication

& feeding skills
while having fun.

2.

An obsessed stage mother who didn't show much promise as a pup provides a stylish blend of daily news about authentic designer handbags & illnesses for those aspiring to take up dance.

3.

In the Spring

she would bring him

sprigs
of brie.

4.

Always a part of him
that / didn't understand, that came in late after the introductions were over.

5.

My
dreams
are in black & white

but I

compensate
with a Coltrane
sound-
track.

6.

In an unconscious

but quite innocuous

imitation of Un Chien An-

dalou, a plane
passes across

the face of the moon,

slicing it
in two.

7.

Now that the voices in my head
have deserted me,
who is there
left to talk to?
